

Wonderland, Moscow

So suddenly she put the hurt on me
The guiding light that used to make the darkness bright.
And I can never never love again
I will forever ever ever feel the same
She's gone back home again without a word,
Moscow, that's all I know Moscow
Moscow, where shall I go in Moscow
But I've got to get her back again
So today I'll take the train to Moscow

Look everywhere, ask everybody there
Help me to find once more my peace of mind
Till then I'll knock knock knock on every door
Like I will walk and talk and talk and walk and call without her by my side I can't come back,
Moscow, that's all I know Moscow
Moscow, where shall I go in Moscow
I'll find out if I was just a toy
Just another little boy for her.
But I've got to get her back again
So today I'll take the train to Moscow.
