Woody Guthrie, She Came Along To Me

Ten hundred books could I write you about her Because I felt if I could know her I would know all women And they've not been any too well known For brains and planning and organized thinking But I'm sure the women are equal And they may be ahead of the men

Yet I wouldn't spread such a rumor around Because one organizes the other And some times the most lost and wasted Attract the most balanced and sane And the wild and the reckless take up With the clocked and the timed And the mixture is all of us And we're still mixing

But never, never, never Never could have it been done If the women hadn't entered into the deal Like she came along to me

And all creeds and kinds and colors
Of us are blending
Till I suppose ten million years from now
We'll all be just the alike
Same color, same size, working together
And maybe we'll have all the fascists
Out of the way by then
Maybe so.
