

Word As A Virus, Farewell To Sanctity

I return to soil
Accept what has been given to me
Many suns and moons have given me time
I am at one with the light
I will stand among the earths spirits
Satellites carry me through air waves
My energy continuing to roam through
Cables and through mind
I am at one with the light
I will burn the antennas and be free