

Wumpscut, Womb

Here I am I am your child
Lying safe and warm in your womb

Billions of women were ambushed by me as I am the unwanted life
And I lurk in your body and I lurk in your womb

Here I am I am lying in your womb I am your child an unwanted child
I do not care about anything else but me and you think about killing me
Forget about that I will be with you for the rest of your miserable days

Oh and now you're crying I never wanted you to cry about me
But I do exist and you have to take care about that
For the rest of your miserable days
