

X Japan, Unnamed song from Eternal Melody

I'm standing on the edge
And coming to my senses
From the reverie
Never thought I would Never thought I'd need to
Say good bye, I bid you farewell
My voiceless words are swaying the flame
I can't live without...I can't live without
I can't live without you here in the dark
I whisper your name over again
Give me the strength to seize the light if I should find a way
I saw a dream
We were flying in the sky without a fear
Never touched the ground, that never came to my side
I tried so hard to reach out for your hand
The worthless weight kept your soul away
I can't live without...I can't give without
I can't breath without you here in the world
Do you feel the rain?
You said love takes no pain
With or without the sun
The lurid sky still tearing me apart
Wishing that freedom would reign over the pain
Give me the strength to leave the words that "Love will find a way..."
I can't live without...
I can't give without you here in the world
Do you feel the rain, over the pain?
Give me the strength to leave the words that
"Love will find a way..."
With or without the sun
I'll be the night that won't say good-bye (?*)
'Cause I, I know I'll be with you
NOTE: The line w/ the (?*) next to it, I'm unsure of...I'm only sure of "I'll be" & "I'll be"
