

XTC, Greenman

Please to bend down for the one called the greenman
He wants to make you his bride
the greenman
Forever, to him, you're tied
And you know for a million years
he has been your lover
He'll be a million more
And you know for a million years
he has been your lover
Down through the skin
To the core
Heed the greenman, heed the greenman Please to dance round for the one called
the greenman
He wants to make you his child
Please to dance round for the one called
the greenman
Dressed in the fruits of the wild
And you know for a million years
he has been your father
He'll be a million more
And you know for a million years
he has been your father
Run to his arms from your door
Lay your head, lay your head
Lay your head, lay your head 'pon the greenman Lay your head... with mine
Lay your head... 'pon the greenman
Build a bed, out of oak and pine See the greenman blow his kiss from high church wall
An unknowing church will amplify his call Please to bend down...
And you know for a million years...
Lay your head... 'pon the greenman
Lay your head...
Please to bend down for the one called the greenmen
Lay your head
