

Yam, Run away

I was stroling down the street one day and a blaaaaack cat walked in my way they said that this one belonged to a witch andthatswhy i found ya motha in the ditch that gave good luck co i found you you you you i i took you in my in my hand and snatched the black cat and you said i just have gotta run away all my life ive been waitin for this day
i just gotta run away
i just gotta run away
we got to my house and the door fell down ya muma was there wif a big wichy frown where eva we went she followed what eva we got she swallowed she said
i just gotta run away
i just gotta run away
