Year Of The Rabbit, Strange Eyes

Did you just say that We are going out there The panic swells My mouth is dry

Slowly get up Sneak out the back door To make you understand I don't want to go

You're living door to door With nothing in your soul Strange eyes No one you know

You want to stop that pain They'll never let you stay Strange eyes No one you know

Did you just tell me We are going out there I can't show the stress I can't show the fear

An invitation
We can see the whole world
What can I say
I don't want to go

You're living door to door With nothing in your soul Strange eyes No one you know

You want to stop that pain They'll never let you stay One place More than a day

You're selling door to door With nothing in your soul Strange eyes Black desert rose

You want to stop being sick They'll never let you care

Oh its the only way I'll ever find a reason Do I really havd a reason Oh I need you to say That I really am a reason Do I really have a reason

If I've given you anything Say it If you're feeling anything Say it Say it
