

Years Spent Cold, Cut In Half

you pushed me to the edge you let this happen
these excuses mean shit
youll wish you never made this choice dont looks for a way out duck and run for cover, just find your way out your mistakes, are no longer mistakes this will be the end to your false ways calling you out in your own house wasted fking copout

cut in half you think that this is just a fking game

this time there is no running from your mistakes
