

Yeasayer, No Need To Worry

Sister won't you rise with me?
Run 'way from your grave
Father set our house to flame
Please his new family

Brother won't you steal away?
Dreams of night a play
Father set our house ablaze

Blackened stones, I beg you speak of the murderous hand
Words will never sound again on this shadowland

Blackened sky, I beg you weep
What the day has lost
No one left to weep for us

No need to worry
We'll get some jewelry for your momma
