

Yellow Hammers, Circle

Won't you let down your guard and finally talk to me I've spent the time to let you know you'll be free Don't you think the time is right to open up to the way that I have always talked to you I've never let you down
I always bring you around from those rough parts of the day
that are so unsound
And the thoughts I had seized you seem to let go with ease when I thought I'd made impressions
on your beliefs
We just circle
When I met you, you gave me all your thoughts and I thought they might have come from your heart So now how can you turn your back to what days ago seems forever true So now it all has changed and your mind is not the same as the one that said to me I don't play games all the thoughts I had seized you seem let go with ease
When I thought I'd made impressions
on your beliefs
But we just circle around Could you give again what you gave on your last try You gotta trust that a brand new word is not a lie Can we go from the thoughts that we had first and believe that what's to come is not worst 'cause I'd never let you down
I always bring you around
from those rough parts of the day
that are so unsound
But we just circle
