Yngwie Malmsteen, Only One

I've never killed another man I've never lived the master plan I can only pray that we'll survive

With every sin and whitened line, I see the future slipping by The time is nearing, what have we done

Is there a reason? Someone explain? And in the end will we pay?

Time will Tell I will

The hands of time we can't turn back Have we all slipped through the cracks Lord have mercy, forgive us all

Is there a reason? Someone explain? And in the end will we pay?

Time will Tell I will

There's no use looking back Everything's turning black Time's running out for us all
