

Yoko Ono, Will You Touch Me

Will you touch me, will you touch me
When my body's full of fear?
Will you reach me, will you reach me
When my body's so cold?

Nothing short of the softest word can reach me now.
Nothing but the warmest heart can touch me now

Will you hold me, will you hold me
When my mind is full of fears?
Will you kiss me, will you kiss me
When my mind is so down?

All my life the doors kept closing on me
Nothing in the world can open my heart but some kindness

Will you touch me, will you touch me
When I'm shaking in fear
Will you reach me, will you reach me
When I'm trembling with tears

All my life the doors kept closing on me.
And nothing in the world can open my heart but your kindness
