Yothu Yindi, Gunitjpirr Man

Sound of the waves fall On the sand dune of love Sweet memory of you Of the times that we spent together Right from the heart You gave me the new and the old Gunitjpirr man Don't leave me alone Come back to me Gunitjpirr man We'll remember and speak of you As the father of land rights The children must learn Of the sacred law And of Mother Earth Just like the way that you did And when our time comes around We'll meet up again Gunitjpirr man Don't leave me alone Come back to me Gunitjpirr man...