

You, Me, And Everyone We Know, Livin' Th' Dream

Yesterday I turned 23
The date didn't mean that much to me
Then I started adding figures up in my head
It seems the cost of dreaming's left me in the red

Because of alcohol, I've shared 16 beds
With a five year reunion hanging over my head
11,000 people think I'm something I'm not
The courage to let them down is something I've still got

Sometimes I wanna cheat, but I don't
I wanna quit, but I won't
Cuz I made this bed

Give me a shovel, you'll be amazed
At how fast I dig a grave
Baby just lay in it

You're only brave til you're scared
You're only unique until compared
To every other worthless fuck trying to Crawl into bed tonight

She can't afford to live like this
Yes we can, oh yes we can
She can't be dumb enough to dream so big
Yes we can, oh yes we can

Move through the sleazy scenes
Past all the casting couches, rug-burned knees
I'm not done yet
No, I'm only getting started

You can't afford to live like this
You can't be dumb enough to dream so big

Yeah we sailed through all the sleazy scenes
Past all the casting couches, rug-burned knees
No, I'm not done yet

You can't afford to live like this
Yes we can, oh yes we can
You can't be dumb enough to dream so big
Yes we can, oh yes we can

Move through the sleazy scenes
Past all the casting couches, rug-burned knees
I'm not done yet
No, I'm only getting started