

You're Pretty, Tie My Hands

Here I sit
Laughing at the wrong thing
Waiting for someone to notice me

You found me
Just in time to lose me
From my self and all I held on to
I need you to believe

Wait I have a lot of things to say
About love and life what gives you the right
You just walk away
Wait I haven't said here nothing I won't be this way

There are so
Many forces pulling on me
Telling me what I should find important
Live and let me be

Wait I have a lot of things to say
About love and life what gives you the right
You just walk away
Wait I haven't said here nothing I won't be this way

You've said a lot of things to make me run away
From the light I thought I saw in you yesterday
So don't turn my head and tie my hands behind my back
Cause I won't be this way

Don't tell me what I need
Don't tell me what I want

Wait I have a lot of things to say
About love and life what gives you the right
You just walk away
Wait I haven't said here nothing I won't be this way

You've said a lot of things to keep me in my place
So just shut up for once and let me plead my case
Don't turn your head and tie my hands around my back
Because I won't be this way
