

Young Love, Nameless One

What kind of light will bring us all together when it gets dark we'll only have each other so take hold