

Young Marble Giants, Include Me Out

Re-arranging the atoms in my hairdo Gets me thinking 'bout good times I had with you Back in the Sixties when love was free
Never need to worry bout my G.C.E.

Dying of boredom in your plastic home
Pretty the pictures, work to the bone
Don't be depressed, you can just pick up the phone
But it won't answer 'cos
there's no-one home

Count your possessions out one by one Include your lovers, include the one
You threw away in nineteen sixty three Include me out, don't label me
