

YUNGBLUD, breakdown.

I've been fighting the changes
Tearing my heart out
Wanting to die before I open my eyes

Been fighting the changes
Tearing my heart out
Wanting to die before I open my eyes

Go round the bend before the sun comes Things in my head just don't line up
Don't wanna leave my bed coz if I do I feel like I'll die

Go round the bend before the sun comes
Things in my head just don't line up Don't wanna leave my bed, every time I do I feel like

I've been fighting the changes
Tearing my heart out
Wanting to die before I'm living my life

Been fighting the changes
Tearing my heart out Wanting to die before I breakdown!

think i'm going to breakdown!
think i'm going to fade out
think i'm going to breakdown!

Oh

breakdown!
think i'm going to breakdown!
think i'm going to fade out
think i'm going to breakdown!

Oh oh

Don't forget to put your feet in the grass Tell your mum that you love her Say you cleaned up your act

Give money to the homeless man Help him buy a bar

When you're buying your morning coffee Ask them how they are

God save the Sunday morning Pray for me on the Saturday night

Talk polite
Don't start fights
Don't tell lies

That's for the people
With oblivious short sight

One day we'll meet man
And I'll say alright

See the world is pretty big man but don't feel small in it

Sometimes you lose a number but I swear you're still calling it

I promise you it'll be alright in the end

Fuck the depression it's all in your head stay with your friends

And walk up the hill at quarter to six in the morning

Take in the air whilst everyone else is still snoring Express yourself with your friends They'll save your life you know

Everything's about connection you don't have to be alone

breakdown!
think i'm going to breakdown!
think i'm going to fade out
think i'm going to breakdown!

Oh

breakdown!
think i'm going to breakdown!
think i'm going to fade out
think i'm going to breakdown!

Oh oh
