

Yvonne, It's In Our Love

Please, just leave but if you stay, it won't mean much to me
'cause I've gone numb by the way that you talk and you know I can't stand that sound Why won't you just tear me down?

Sweet, sweet fake I don't really know how much more of this I can take
And I'm dead calm, you keep your distance and wait, wait for more to see Why won't you just tear me
Why won't you just tear me down?

And now when I've found out what you're about it's so sad, 'cause you were like this from the start How come I don't break apart?
