Zed, Starlight (Hot Chicks soundtrack)

It's alright It's ok I'll keep holding on today 'Cause I'm waiting for the starlight in your eyes No more faith No more hope All that I can do is grope For a shred of loving care from my girl The pain you felt has burdened you You can't feel love I'm glad that I have been with you But that's not enough In your arms I would be Overjoyed as any boy Holding on to what he loves Oh so much Feel your touch every night When I dreamed to be alright There you are in front of me With your smile The pain you felt has burdened you You can't feel love I'm glad that I have been with you But that's not enough Whoa, that's not enough ... The pain you felt has burdened you You can't feel love I'm glad that I have been with you But that's not enough In your arms I would be Overjoyed as any boy Holding on to what he loves Oh so much Holding on to what he loves Oh so much Holding on to what he loves Oh so much
