

Zed Yago, Black Bone Song

Seven men on a dead man's coffin waiting 'till the rumour will be true seven souls are damned for ever eternally bound to sing the tune

Black Bone Song, it's never ending a unique minor key, Black Bone Song come along hell bound on the sea.

Risk a view at the brink of death treasure hunters, they're never coming back seven voices scream and shout, found an escape through the hole in the ground.
This old legend of seven sailor's lives drinking rum, singing black bone's rhymes seven pains cry out loud digging out the tale, out of the ground.
