

Zed Yago, United Pirate Kingdom

Welcome to the edge of the world where the horizon meets the great water no doubt about the material world it hasn't manifested itself shadows form monstrous shapes over and over again never tired, never ending the outlines burst in to pieces of pain.

Its the place where all forms of life dwell and await their return a timeless life between real and unreal is, where she endlessly burns the magic rope a gift from the past won't let her free never she moves in the middle of this misty fog oh, that's forever.

United pirate kingdom ruled by a pirate queen, that's where she keeps on dreaming building up her fantasy for ecstasy.

Obsessed by revolution against the slimy cloud, wait for incarnation that's all she dreams about, the misty fog and the twilight zone you can't destroy throughout eternity, a creation without end a reckless rider on the sea at the edge of the world.

Chased by the dream to be able to live inside a human body only one amazing miracle could achieve this innermost wish of the lady if two great opposites such as good and bad would go together and unite heaven and hell is only one thing this cannot be denied.
