

Zedd & Elley Duhe, Happy Now

you're a world away
somewhere in the crowd
in a foreign place
are you happy now?

so I shut my mouth
so won't you tell me babe
are you happy now?

you're the only one who can up and run Eave me just as empty as the day you came you hold all the cards all the broken hearts strung over your shoulder till it's all in vein and only you know the strength of your teeth wash in the weight of your pockets so deep and lonely

you're a world away
are you happy now?

so I shut my mouth
are you happy now?

in the palm of your hands you can make me dance spin me round in circles till I'm wrapped in string you keep me talking sweet til your fingers bleed but don't you dare ask me how I've been now you know the strength of your teeth

are you happy now?

so I shut my mouth
are you happy now?
