

Zeeza, Points Of Five

Points of Five
(tribute to Pagans)

(a chant)

Did you ever see the goat inside the circle of the star?
did you ever see its eyes and writings on the points of five horned one unholy one the darkening in his bitter heart did you ever see the blood inside the circle of the star?
to seek the spirit of the horned one, unholy one and learned one I wear the star for all to see the spirits of the horned one

Chorus chant

I fear no curse I fear no hells of holy ghosts in wishing wells burn the candles in the sky to seek the star the points of five
the burnings of the chosen ones the midwives and the witches' sons the castings outs of learned ones that do not fear the horned one
did you ever see the goat inside the circle of the star
did you ever see its eyes and writings on the points of five?
wear the star for all to seek the spirits of the horned one Burn the candles in the sky and seek the star the points of five

(chant)

I fear no curse I fear no hells of holy ghosts in wishing wells
burn the candles in the sky to seek the star the points of five
