

Zeno, Eastern Sun

You gotta move on - no second left to rest
'Cause there is nothing - that's standing still
The sun will shine on - no matter what you do
The wheel is turning - it's not your will
You hear the wind cry - calling for you to come
You see the red glow - of ancient truth
You meet a dead-line - before you've found your way

But there's a woman - smiling at you...

Loving - feeling with you
Shining - like a red sun -
You know that it's true

You're gonna shine on
Just like the eastern sun
And when you're smiling
Tomorrow's gone

She is the ocean - you have to swim across
She is the hot wind - you have to cool
But when your time comes - one thing you know for sure
That woman keeps on - smiling at you...
