

Zero Procent, Not strong enough

I thought that I would manage those Things which crushed me and made me small
Stress, fear and hurry, I couldn't take it anymore
Surely I didn't feel better when
Somebody wanted to see me dead
I feel betrayed by my dear friends who I trusted all the time
And I was so close to reaching the top
But I fell from the cliff cause I couldn't pass along it
I wasn't able to get back there cause there was no way
More difficult is to get there than later fall

II

I tried to persuade myself
That everything is simple, oh yes
However despite my efforts I couldn't lie to myself again
Now I've decided to fight for what I've lost
I want to prove to all of you what I'm able to do

Chorus

I'm not strong enough for walking across the roads
Which I have to pass against the world
I will do what I want and I won't give up
I won't give up!