

Zero Procent, Sacrafice

And again I have to give up everything
What is important and good for me
The time is slipping out from my hands
And it's also the reason why I am still alone

Chorus

This is how I'm sacrificing myself
To realize all my plans that I wanted to come true
And only If I reach everything I will be free
So I believe that someday everything's going to change

II

My mind is telling 'resign, give up'
Cause you will never try the real life
But I can't listen to it, and thats so sad
I know that I must reach my top!

Chorus

This is how I'm sacrificing myself
To realize all my plans that I wanted to come true
