

Zero Procent, Shall I do that

Where is my destination
On the left or on the right
The world seems to be so strange
I take a look around
And I see myself in the mirror
That sad and lonely face
And I'm losing my mind, and I'm losing my mind
Chorus
When I will find somebody
Who will tell me everything about the world
Who will show me everything what it really looks
And I want to taste the beautiful day
And touch the skies upstairs
Shall I do that? I don't know, but I rally want
II
Look at my life
All my plans have gone with the wind
I feel so weak and tired
Don't want to be powerless
Those feeling make me mad
They're killing me slowly
And I'm losing my mind, and I'm losing my mind
