

Zero To Hero, Punk Rock Fairytale

What doesn't kill me can only make me stronger
If this was killing me, would you stop?
I have never feared a stranger
Because only friends can stab me in the front

So if this is the last night
That we'll be Officially
In love
Then you should know
I have no regrets
It was too damn hard
When push came to shove

I packed up
Your things
I have enough
In my dreams
Pictures fade
And love remains
Until the day
You're here again

I always loved your beautiful smile
The sparkle in your eyes, and the funny things you'd do
I'm sorry that things turned out the way they did
I'd do it all again, for another night with you

Your necklace reminds me
Of everything we did
It's stupid
I know
But I'll still wonder
If you'd invite me
To your wedding
Because I'd really like to go

A bruised heart
Your hurt pride
It won't be
On my mind
It's all been done
Not why but how
Don't look back
It's over now

Song's over now, my comfort is gone
