

Zero Tolerance, Don't You Know

In every adolescent dream
There is no king without a queen
I'll work for silver, you for gold
We'll leave the stories left untold

I don't know why I can't see
Just what is happening to me
With all we have there's none to spare
Too many children just don't care

(Chorus):
Don't you know that it's never been this clear
Don't you know there are enemies near
Don't you know
Don't you know
Don't you know

We've fought the battle we have won
But our cause is not yet done
So rest assured there is much more
So many things worth fighting for

Chorus

In every adolescent dream
No king survives without his queen
And in the end we all prefer
To live happily ever after
