

Zhorn, What I Feel Today

Midnight hour, I am crossing the clouds
World below is in a winter dream
I am save, free from distress and doubt
Skies are quiet, it is a perfect scene

Hug your pillow and sleep
You dream of flying so high
I'm not there, I apologize
But I've tried to stay
This is what I feel today

1:00 a.m., I am counting the stars
I'm alone, and it feels I take a bow
Skies came down as you started the car
Things have changed, I am finally happy now

Hug your pillow and dream
You are hosted and save
If you wake up, you'll know the truth
Waiting to be free
It's the moment of unity

I've been burnt by the powers of heaven
It's the mark that I cannot deny
I will love you forever
And we'll make it together somehow
I am looking for a way
This is what I feel today
