Sleeplessness is fair Luscious body so full of drives Sweetness in the mouth Half an hour till the next bite

Blithely I rely on you Please move in So I could see

The night of the world Something tangible you can't keep The sign without a word Invincible and no to be won

Blithely I rely on you Please move in I could see that's you

I don't want reality
I don't want, confront my dream
Me less surprised
To keep it real
To make it feel
Over intensity
