Zion, Kick In The Gates Of Hell

(Rex Scott)
Two thousand years ago a man did walk
He was sent into this world to die He did more than talk
With words so powerful that would knock you down
He would turn the heads of everyone right around
He'd say&
I've got a message to tell
That's gonna kick in the gates
He didn't worry about the kind of clothes He wore
He really didn't care much always getting more
He didn't have to say it loud He didn't have to scream!
But every single word that He says makes demons flee!
I've got a message to tell that's gonna kick in the gates
I've got a message to tell that's gonna kick in the gates of Hell!
