

Zombina And The Skeletones, Bubblegum Machi

It's been a long time, baby
Is once a year enough
Yes I'm still in love
Got flowers for you

I'm still in mourning
But I don't wanna dig you up
Cos I don't wanna see you rot
While I still got you in my blood

Now I got restraint
And I got common sense
Better than a restraining order
And a barbed wire fence

It was on a night like this when I got you that ring
I knocked over a bubblegum machine
It's too big for your finger, baby, so put it around your neck
And don't forget...

It's been a long time
Since your little victim girlfriend face
In obituaries and missing ads was seen over the place
They didn't capture
The terror in your eyes
I'm sorry that you had to die in such an ugly way
