Zonata, Divided We Stand

Morphed by fear, a mask to wear But all must carry on Desperate fights for the final light The last straw to be drawn Disbelieve or contribute Revaluate your soul A radical way to live That undivides our rules

Open up your eyes and see the mirror of your life. Hunted every moment by the phantoms in the night

Bow down ,time has been tolled Rise now ,to remain

The chains of dawn will reveal The truth and what to come Systematized synchronized Life is on the hold Faith by night a shallow light Our innocence will guide And silent saved from decay We rearrange our ways

Open up your eye and see the mirror of your life Hunted every moment by the phantoms in the night

Bow down ,time has been tolled Rise now ,to remain
