

Zucchero, Feels Like A Woman

This is a man who needs a woman

I'm not afraid to say what I feel

I'll never be unfaithful

I've been wrong and lived the lonely life

Silence is loud without her whispers

My body craves her touch

Such are my prayers every break of dawn

To open my eyes and see her by my side

Chorus:

When the earth shakes and the tide breaks

Feels like a woman

So much power takes my breath away

When the sun beats satin blue sheets

Feels like a woman

I am sweating, begging her to stay with me

This is a man who needs a woman

In all of my world, in my nights

If i don't live up to this promise

Then I am wrong, I have no right

Chorus

Chorus repeated

This is a man who needs a woman

I'm not afraid to say what I feel

I'll never be unfaithful

And I'll be one with no demands
