

Zucchero, The promise

Main streets lights, morning hours,
Lead me down to quiet streets
Early traffic with its radio songs
Someplace two rivers meet
Will you be in my life
Kiss me in the shadows
Time time times gonna keep the promise
Its alright, its alright
Mercy falls on my sacred ground
Pretts woman cries but makes no sound
I am lost, it dont matter
If the paper house comes tumbling down
Gonna be in your life, standing in the shadows
Time time times gonna make the days flow
Its alright, the promise
Its alright, the loveless
Hold me a moment in time
The prayers of all the people will fly
Over the city tonight
Ill wait for the sound of your voices
To sing . . .
Love comes and its alright, thats all
Believe me an its alright, that's all
