

Zwan, I Know My Time Is Coming

i know my time is coming around
i know my time is coming around
i know my time is coming

it's coming around
i've seen a new day dawning i'd give my life this morning

you might be right
you could be someone in my life you could be wrong, you could be right you do what you want you've always done just what you want you could be wrong, you could be right

i'd give my life for someone to say i died for someone
i know my time is coming around
it's coming around

so long blisters bled outside call out the races, forget who we were i really tried to be someone you can love better than a simple man with some help from the lord above

you might be right
you could be someone in my life
you could be wrong, you could be right into the light you've always wandered towards the light into the light, into the light to want, to wait to always hesitate to love, to love you to beg, to steal to scrape for what you feel to love someone someone like me

i know my time is coming around
it's coming around
coming around, it's coming around around, it's coming around you might be feeling all they love, forever

you might be feeling all they love
