

Zyon, Chasing The Dragon

We all just fade away, this jungle is too much, but we fight through every waking day, through the p
All my dreams are set in stone, all my goals made into gold, but i've watched them fall time and time
I wanna watch it all come down...
And through it all, i look to the very end and you're miles away, slowly digging my grave...
I am just melting away, you're such a killer, you're just one step away...
I have nothing, I am nothing but dirt, I want to run away from this nightmare, this sinking feeling is in
And tear it out...
i wanna get away,
i wanna run away...
